Britain to Rush Vital India Talks

LONDON, May 19 —(CP)— Viscount Mountbatten, Viceroy of India, arrived here shortly after noon today for his consultations with Prime Minister Attlee and the cabinet on the situation in India.

The viceroy, accompanied by Lady Mountbatten, flew from New Delhi in his own four-engined aircraft. Among those who greeted them were Lord Listowel, secretary for India, Lord Ismay, senior member of the viceroy's staff, and other officials of the India Office.

Mountbatten refused any immediate comment on his present mission. He and Lady Mountbatten drove from Northolt airport to Buckingham Palace, where they will stay for the next few days.

THE CRUCIAL talks on India's future will start without delay. It is learned that arrangements have been made for the Viceroy to meet this evening with Attlee and other ministers concerned with Indian affairs.

They are treating India as the top priority item of business for the next week or so.

Within 24 hours, the full cabinet will be in possession of the salient facts of the position in India as the Viceroy now sees it.

Urgency is the keynote of the present talks, which come on the eve of the Indian leaders' conference on plans for the transference of power. The British government is understood to be convinced that speedy and unequivocal decisions by the Indian leaders are indispensable if Britain is to carry out her pledges and hand over authority to India's representatives by the appointed time, June of next year.

DISPATCHES from India said Mountbatten was reliably reported to be carrying with him a "basis for settlement" between India's bitterly opposed political parties.

LAHORE, India, May 19—(AP)— Police and troops today patrolled the streets of Lahore, capital of the Punjab, following week-end riots which caused thousands of persons to flee the city to escape spreading battles between Hindu, Mosiem and Sikh mobs. It was Lahore's 50th day of communal unrest and the city was placed under 24-hour curfew.

NO ESTIMATE of the casualty total was made this morning, but police reported 15 had been killed and 12 wounded in one skirmish alone. One hospital said it had received 11 dead and 32 wounded.

Black Market Not Yet Starved In Reich Crisis

By MENNO DUERKSEN

FRANKFURT, May 19 (BUP) —Germany's acute food shortage hasn't yet starved the black market. I've just returned to Frankfurt with a black market operator who acquired 620 pounds of food in one Bavarian village in less than two hours. He "bought" this food with 12 pieces of German-made soap, one pair of new—but shoddy—women's shoes, one used dress, one blouse, one pair of second hand men's work pants, and six cigarettes.

The purchase consisted of 500 pounds of potatoes, 100 pounds of barley flour, five pounds of bacon, three pounds of ham, four pounds of lard, two dozen eggs and five pounds of sausage.

This was in addition to what we ate while we were there—ham, sausage, bread, milk and apple cider. The black marketeer—we'll call him "Johann" —ate five times as much as I did.

40,000 May Strike In Middle East

JERUSALEM, May 19 (BUP)— British authorities today faced threat of the largest strike ever called in the Middle East—a one-day walkout tomorrow of 30,000 Arab and 10,000 Jewish employes of the Royal Army.

Earlier the militant Jewish underground force, Irgun Zvai Leumi had demanded abolition of British immigration restrictions and military measures against the Jewish ground as its price for peace in the Holy Land.

The 40,000 workers will strike in support of demands for wage increases, union recognition, labor statutes and severance pay. They claim they have not had any pay boosts for six years.

If the demands of the strike which will be accompanied by mass meetings are not met the workers threaten to call additional walkouts.

The workers are employed in the ordinance and service corps workshops and at army camps in Haifa and Tel Aviv.

Edmonton Man Killed In Mine

DRUMHELLER, Alta., May 19—(CP)—Austin L. Brown, 56, of Edmonton was killed this morning when he was crushed between a mine car and the roof of the Atlas mine in East Coulee.

Mr. Brown died before he could be brought to the surface of the mine. His wife and family live in Edmonton.

An inquest will be held tonight in Drumheller.

Says CBC Requires Further Revenue

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC's board of governors, told the Commons committee on broadcasting today that the CBC "must have further revenue if its service is not to be seriously impaired."

"Prices and costs of just about everything have gone up in Canada," said Mr. Dunton. "This is reflected in an acute form in the costs of the corporation. Another corporation's main selling price—the licence fee—has remained the same.

"THE OVERALL result is that the CBC is caught between the anvil of limited revenues and the hammer of increasing costs. At the same time, it is prodded to maintain and improve and extend its services."

He expressed the hope that parliament would act this year on the corporation's request that it be given full revenue from the $2.50 annual licence fee. The corporation now pays collection and administration costs and receives only an average of $2.15 a licence.

Prepare To Bring In No. 2 Leduc Well

Oil Men Await Big Strike

What observers believe will result in confirmation of the greatest oil field discovery in recent years of exploration, was underway Monday at the Imperial Oil Company's No. 2 Leduc well where today crews were busy jabbing for a pressure blowoff and an anticipated blast of petroleum crude which would mark the second well to be brought into production from the depths of Northern Alberta's virgin Devonian oil and gas forture vault.

SWABBING OF the well started early Monday morning with crews working gingerly at the unpredictable job of removing from the pipe over a mile of mud and chemicals at present counterbalancing the natural pressure of gas and crude.

The situation at Leduc has been tense for some time. International interest has been focussed on the field ever since No. 1 was "came in" last February with a daily flow of several hundred barrels of oil a day.

THEN No. 1 WAS CAPPED. Bad roads prevented supplies getting in. So when storage facilities were taxed, the well was plugged and production stopped.

But in the meantime drilling continued in other wells—Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Then well No. 2 showed unmistakable evidences of oil. In the last few days renewed activity has sprung up. Officials who returned to Toronto have come back again.

A STAND-BY SIGNAL went out on Sunday. This morning all roads for oil men were leading to Leduc waiting for the big gusher to "come in."

Officials said it might be any moment. It might be early this afternoon, or it might be tonight, but undoubtedly it would be soon.

Officials made no secret of the fact that they are expecting big things from this new well.

B.C. Lumbermen Threaten Strike

VANCOUVER, May 19 (CP)—A threat to take a strike vote among the 9,000 interior British Columbia lumber workers "unless employers enter into negotiations in good faith" was made here Saturday by Harold Pritchett, district president, International Woodworkers of America (CIO).

In a statement he declared that negotiations conducted between the union and J. H. Ruddock, representing the operators," were futile, useless and insulting to say the least."

Mr. Ruddock, commenting on the statement, asked: "Are they going to live up to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act or go out on strike again illegally?"

Higher wage rates and a 40-hour week are sought by the workers, who a year ago were on a 37-day strike.

Rotary Club President

Appeals for Support Of Greek Relief Fund

History's most destructive war has brought a staggering problem of rehabilitation for the gallant people of Greece, a valiant ally of the greater powers in the struggle against Nazism. This is the situation that calls for solution by the peoples of the more favored nations, such as Canada, B. C. Hollingshead, president of the Edmonton Rotary Club, stated Monday in an appeal for support for the Relief to Greece campaign.

In his statement, Mr. Hollingshead said:

"Conditions which prevail in Greece today are such that we in Canada, which was untouched by the terrible destruction of war, cannot fully realize. Hundreds of communities throughout Greece have been devastated, towns and villages have been completely burned or bombed to rubble and the economic life of the entire country has been seriously damaged.

"To the people of Greece, war has meant not only the loss of loved ones, but a life of hardship and suffering which has continued through two years since the war came to an end. We in Canada must do all we can to help these unfortunate people to rehabilitate themselves by our generous sup-

China City Besieged By Reds

By Spencer Moosa

NANKING, May 19 — (AP) —A Chinese Communist column moved to a point only seven miles south of Changchun today to place the Manchurian capital virtually under a state of siege, Nationalist dispatches reported.

THE RED ARMY unit pushed to the city's suburbs after taking Hwaiteh, 25 miles west of Changchun. The fall of Hwaiteh exposed the capital city to direct attack. Changchun was under martial law.

Another Communist column was reported to have reached a point 12 miles southwest of Changchun in an attempt to seize the nearby airfield and isolate the city. Red forces made gains elsewhere in civil war fighting.

Striking students here and in Shanghai disregarded government orders against parades and public demonstrations.

In Peiping four students of national Peking university were beaten by soldiers of the youth army during a student anti-civil war speeches.

Meanwhile nationalist dispatches told of Communist attacks on the rail centre of Kungchuling, 56 miles southwest of Changchun, with the evident intention of blockading nationalist reinforcements from Mukden.

In Shensi province, Communists claimed without confirmation the capture of Sanyuan, highway point 35 miles northeast of the provincial capital, Siking (Sian). Siking is a government base.

To Hand U.S. Responsibility

Great Britain Soon May Quit Mediterranean, Middle East

LONDON, May 19 —(AP)— Informed sources declared today that Britain is setting the stage to hand military responsibility in the Mediterranean and Middle East over to the United States and withdraw Empire defences to East Africa.

QUALIFIED BRITISH military information said the proposed set up implied that defence of the Mediterranean and the Suez Canal in particular would become an American responsibility.

The move will not mean abandonment of Britain's economic and political interests in the Middle East, however, these sources said, recalling Foreign Secretary Bevin's statement in the House of Commons last Friday.

"We must maintain a continual interest in that area," Bevin said, "if only because our economic and financial interests are of vast importance to us and other countries as well."

"If those interests were lost to use," he added, "the effect on life in this country would be a considerable reduction in the standard of living."

THE MILITARY informants, who are close to the war office, fixed the timetable for withdrawal of the British military and supply bases to East Africa at two to three years.

The momentous shift, revamping a 30-year-old policy of imperial defence, has been made possible, the informants said, by emergence of the United States as an active Mediterranean power with definable interests to defend.

The decision to fortify East Africa—mainly Kenya and the two Rhodesias—was understood to have been dictated, too, by Britain's decision to quit India by June, 1948, by the instability of Palestine and by the uncertain constitutional future of the Sudan, whose status now is the subject of an Egyptian appeal pending before the United Nations.

THE EFFECT of the scheme on the economic, social and political future of Africa, the military sources said, would be "truly historic."

Court Dismisses Mrs. Dick's Appeal

TORONTO, May 19 (CP)— Ontario court of appeal today dismissed an appeal of Mrs. Evelyn Dick against her life sentence imposed last March 26 for manslaughter in the death of her infant son. Chief Justice Robert S. Robertson said Evelyn Dick, mother of three illegitimate children, "has chosen an evil mode of life and her mental infirmities add to the danger of her being at large." He said the appellant "hasn't the normal dislikes of gruesome deeds."

Britons Find Leisure Time Very Precious

By Sir Shuldham Redfern

LONDON, May 19 — The dictionary definition of the word "leisure" is "time free from employment: freedom from occupation." There is no suggestion that there is no employment. On the contrary, there is a strong implication that there must be employment in order that there may be "time free" from it. Mere idleness does not come within the definition.

BUT THERE IS MORE to it than that. Leisure, if properly used is essential to the success of almost every occupation, for leisure gives an opportunity for thought and reflection, and without thought and reflection, most work is sterile. And, moreover, leisure is the cradle of wisdom, for is it not stated in the Book of Ecclesiasticus "The wisdom of the learned man cometh by opportunity of leisure?"

I wonder how many people who imagine that the more work they put into a thing the better they will do it. Such a concept is, however, often fallacious. What is required is a full measure of intelligence, and in order to keep ones intelligence constantly alive, it is necessary to be able to see round any task—modern parlance to keep on top of the job, perctive is blurred, initiative is lost, and defeat is in sight. Mystery Messages Are Heard Twice

VANCOUVER, May 19 —(CP)— Mysterious messages, with a faint voice calling "hello, hello," interspersed with the letters TCA, revived hopes today that the 20-day old mystery shrouding the fate of the missing Trans-Canada airliner would soon be solved.

It was reported to the RCAF here that the messages were heard Saturday night and Sunday on telegraph lines between Lillooet and Ashcroft, B. C., 130 miles northeast of here.

The plane vanished without a trace shortly before midnight April 28, carrying 12 passengers and a crew of three.

STATIC PREVENTED clear reception of the messages, but there was a distinct "hello, hello," and some reference to the TCA.

They were first thought the work of some Saturday night revetler, cutting in on the line with a lineman's telephone, but when another message was heard Sunday an investigation was started.

The messages, so weak as to be barely intelligible, were picked up by operators on duty at Ashcroft and Lytton in interior British Columbia.

British Columbia telephone company and telegraph linesmen were

Bandits Hold Up Winnipeg Bank

WINNIPEG, May 19. — (CP) — Three armed bandits today escaped with an undisclosed sum of money from the Westminster avenue branch of the Bank of Toronto here after herding nine staff members and three customers into the vault.

The bandits walked into the bank at 11:30 a.m. after smashing in the premises escaped in a stolen taxi. The car was later found abandoned.

Just before the holdup, the men forced Taxi Driver Jack Goertzau from his cab in a thinly-populated part of the city, tied him securely and left him lying in some bushes while they drove to the bank.

Bank officials said a check would have to be made before the extent of the robbery could be determined. It was the first bank holdup in Winnipeg since 1944.

Miners Consider Compromise Plan

BY JOHN TRACY

GLACE BAY, N.S., May 19 (CP) —A compromise formula for settling the Maritime coal strike went before a meeting of United Mine Workers (CCL) district 26 board today amid general expectation it would be accepted and recommended to the union's membership of 13,000.

If accepted by the 11-man board the formula, as part of a "tentative agreement" reached at last week's meetings in Montreal between Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation officials and union heads, would be placed before the membership in a referendum for acceptance or rejection.

Should the rank and file vote in favor of it, the three-month-old strike would be ended.

Chief provision of the Montreal agreement is a wage increase of $1 a day dating from the time the men return to work until Jan. 31 when the contract expires.

The judgment followed immediately argument of Provincial Counsel E. C. Leslie of Regina, who said the acts should be binding until the Dominion entered the fields of legislation which they covered.

The acts declared ultra vires where they affect railway employes are the trade union, the minimum wage, the annual holidays, hours of work and workmen's wages.

London Letter

sure and work are thus complementary to one another. Leisure must be so directed that it provides refreshment of mind and body and so enables work to be properly carried out. By the same token work must be so adjusted that it gives opportunity for leisure.

THERE HAVE BEEN few people who had a greater understanding of the use of leisure than the late Lord Tweedsmuir. He enjoyed more leisure and got through more work than anyone I have ever met. He was always upstream on his work. He answered every letter within an hour of receiving it. He never fussed over matters of details. Nothing overwhelmed him or got him down. He found time to read on the average of one book a day. He never to my knowledge had an idle moment.

However important leisure may have been in what we sometimes affectionately and perhaps inaccurately call "the good old days," it is, paradoxically, a matter of vital necessity at the present time. These are days of crisis and uncertainty and we are short of many things.

WE WANT MORE coal, more food, more clothes, more houses, more domestic goods, more boots and shoes, more furniture, more motor cars, more wood, more paint —and more leisure. We are told that the only remedy for these shortages is more work. That does not necessarily mean longer hours in fact it may mean shorter hours but that is no inconsistent with a greater effort. How can, for instance, the English housewife work shorter hours or make a greater effort? After seven exhausting anxious years, she has to stand in a queue for almost an hour for everything she wants to buy. she has to take her children to school, and clean up her house, cook, wash up, wash and mend her children's and husband's clothes as well as her own, scrub iron—and preserve her self-respect, and most of them do that magnificently. What time is there for leisure? What right has anyone to seek more leisure when every day it is drummed into our ears that the only way by which we can be extricated from our present troubles is by more work, more production per head, a greater effort? Is it possible in such circumstance for anyone to be given more leisure? Well, the Government seems to think it is and in my opinion the Government is absolutely right. At a time when the whole future of our country is at stake and the survival or otherwise of our industrial life depends on the production of more coal, the miners have been granted a five-day week.

THIS MAY SEEM a bold and dangerous experiment, a week surrender to the turbulent forces in an industry which holds the whip hand over all our destinies. It may seem a gambler's throw when departure from the paths of orthodoxy may lead us into a wilderness of confusion. It may seem a trivial vote-catching expedient when firm contrition on the part of our national purpose is necessary. I do not think it is any of those things. I think it is a splendid and courageous and far-seeing gesture which will abundantly justify the hopes of those who have had the courage and the vision to introduce it.

THE MINERS of this country are about as fine a section of the community as it is possible to find anywhere. They are engaged in a dangerous task, requiring a high degree of skill and physical endurance. Long hours work a day in this most dangerous honestly say that eight hours is an agreeable occupation that can continue for more than five days on end? Is it right or is it wrong to suggest that anyone who has worked in a mine for eight hours a day for five days should have, during the next two days, "freedom from occupation?"

A more difficult problem is to decide how these increased opportunities for leisure should be employed. In this respect the present situation is far from satisfactory. It is, for instance, computed that ten million people bet regularly on football pools and this gives use to an unproductive industry with an annual turnover of five hundred and eighty two million pounds a year. And then, of course, there are the cinemas with a weekly attendance There are, in fact, far too many of thirty three million people. people who employ their leisure as mere watchers, passive observers of other people's activities.

THE NUMBER of people who can ride a horse, play football or cricket, act, sing, or play a musical instrument, is infinitesimal compared with the number who go to race meetings, football and cricket matches, movies and music halls. Sport is too often regarded as an opiate of the mind instead of a means of refreshment.

It appears, therefore, that after creating opportunities, our next task is to see that those opportunities are used to the best advantage in order that leisure may bear fruit. We want more playing fields, better health services, and a wider range of education. All those things are part of a comprehensive scheme which our government has in hand for the purpose of making our people better citizens better equipped to play their part in creating a more civilized world.

port of the current Relief to Greece campaign."

During the war, more than 1,400 towns and villages were destroyed, of which 870 were completely burned. This resulted in thousands being made homeless throughout the country in addition to the large number who lost their homes through the bombing of many ancient cities of Greece. Today more than 1,000,000 men, women and children are without shelter of any kind and many spent the last winter living like animals in caves dug in the sides of mountains.

In Edmonton, a committee has been set up which has organized the Relief to Greece campaign in northern Alberta, with an objective of $40,000. Committee members emphasize that all contributions to the campaign are deductible from income in computing tax returns covering earnings in 1947. Treasurer for the campaign in northern Alberta is Thomas Dickson, manager of the Bank of Montreal here.

Reports from the stricken areas of Greece show that from the peace time population of six million men, women and children, every tenth person died and every sixth is suffering from some form of disease as the result of malnutrition. Added to this is the fact that there are 350,000 tubercular children, 2,000,000 malaria sufferers and 30,000 disabled war veterans. Of the more than 1,400,000 persons now homeless, 375,000 are orphans.

Treasurer Thomas Dickson reported contributions totalled $2,348.55 at the week-end. Following contributions were the latest received by the treasurer:

CBC Revenue

"Stringent economies were necessitated in the management of the corporation," said Mr. Dunton. "Since so many costs are fixed much of the reduction had to be borne by the allocation for program costs — performers fees. The result was a reduction in the standard of programming below what would have been possible without the cuts."

"THE CORPORATION felt that it would not be in the public interest to accept more commercial revenues in order to increase its revenues.

"Sometimes people ask why the CBC needs licence fee money when it takes commercial revenues. The answer is that the contributions from the public are and must be the basis of the national system because of the nature of our country, and our nation. Commercial revenues only supplement direct public support. Because of the geography of Canada, commercialism cannot be enough to support a worthy national broadcasting system in Canada.

"THE NATIONAL system is in an economic squeeze. Rising costs are pressing it inexorably against a wall of limited revenues.

"The position is that the corporation needs further revenues even to maintain services at the present level. Unless further revenues come there is bound to be a serious deterioration and reduction of service. This would come from cutting down some services and programming which the corporation provides, and from increased commercialism, which would also have a bad effect on the service.

"We know that there are many things which the national system should do if it had the means. It should play an even greater role than it does today in the development of the cultural life of Canada.

"IT SHOULD DO still more to develop and hold Canadian talent. It should improve many of its services. It should have better means of finding out what listeners want to hear and what they think of programs on the air.

"But all these things cost money. The national system can carry out its duty of serving Canada only so far as it has the means to do so."

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 19—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation revenues, both commercial and license fees, are expected to run $70,000 behind expenditures for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1947, according to a preliminary estimate made to the house radio committee at noon today by Dr. Augustin Frigon, general manager.

REVENUES included license fees $3,910,000, commercial broadcasting $1,786,000, miscellaneous $112,000, total $5,808,000.

Expenditures, including $2,966,000 for programs, $1,212,000 for engineering, $805,000 for wire lines, $391,000 for administration, $193,000 for press and information, $149,000 for commercial expenses and $2,000 for interest on loan totalled $5,878,000.

This is almost double the estimated deficit of $35,000 presented to the radio committee for the preceding fiscal year of 1945-46. The actual deficit for that year turned out to be $78,425.72.

Freighter Burned

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., May 19.—(CP)—In a spectacular blaze Saturday night, the abandoned freighter Liberty, owned by Capt. O. L. Duncanson of Detroit, was burned to the water's edge in a ship "boneyard" off the north end of Bob-Lo island, in the Detroit river near here.

Missing Plane

checking the reports today, searching along the wire lines for possible traces of "tapping," seeking where a connection might have been made.

RCAF planes were standing by here, awaiting reports from the linemen, before renewing the aerial search.

Search authorities, still alert for any clue that might lead to discovery of the aircraft, said they "found it hard to believe" that the messages might have come from a plane survivor.

Conceivably originating from a line thrown over the telegraph wires, the first message "This is the lost TCA plane" was heard late Saturday night. Additional portions of the message were not discernible. Again Sunday operators at the two centres again heard "plane north of Coquitlam" tapped out weakly.

ALTHOUGH SKEPTICAL that the new development would lead to discovery of the big-twin-engine aircraft that vanished without a trace shortly before midnight April 28, RCAF officials said search planes were standing by to take-off as soon as weather in the search area permitted.

It was the second time that search for the big silver Lodestar had centred in the mountainous, timbered region of Vancouver. Less than a week after the plane disappeared, summer resort residents east of the north arm of Burrard Inlet reported sighting "wildly gyrating lights" on the side of the 4,200 foot Coquitlam.

RCAF AIRCRAFT and ground search parties combed the region without finding a single trace of the aircraft and later it was believed that the lights seen on the mountain were fired from old power company sheds that were being destroyed.

This was reported today in an announcement that France has agreed to join with the United States and Britain in publishing the record of Nazi Germany's pre-war and wartime foreign policy.

my Husband asked my choice

...and I said CHEVROLET

"Why was Chevrolet my choice? Because, like most women, when I shop my one idea is to get the most value for my money—and Chevrolet is the car that gives you just that. As far as beauty, comfort, and all-round quality are concerned, Chevrolet is way up there with the big cars. Yet when it comes to price—well, the price is so much lower it's hardly believable. And another thing I like—the upkeep cost won't strain our family budget! Yes, my choice was Chevrolet, and my husband says I couldn't have chosen better.

Big-Car value in small details, too! Most Chevrolet models have retractive assist straps, ventilating rear-quarter windows, ash receivers set into the top of the instrument panel, and either one or two in the rear passenger compartment.

All Forecasts Wrong

Royal Wedding Plans Keep Guessers Busy

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—Three London newspapers came up Sunday with "inside information" about the rumored engagement of Princess Elizabeth and Philip Mountbatten, formerly Prince Philip of Greece.

However, the "inside information" didn't seem to jibe, insofar as the date of an engagement announcement was concerned. The engagement itself seems to be taken for granted.

"I hear that an official announcement is likely soon," said White Friar, gossip columnist of the News of the World.

"It will not be announced this month," the Sunday Pictorial said it had learned on the highest authority.

Plans for the royal marriage will reach Prime Minister Attlee "within a few days," Columnist Hannen Swaffer wrote in The People.

PHILIP, 26 and a lieutenant in the Royal Navy, became a naturalized British subject just two months ago. That started the tongues wagging.

The self-styled experts first picked Princess Elizabeth's 21st birthday—April 21—as the date for the announcement. But they were wrong.

Then they picked last Monday, when the Royal Family returned from South Africa, and Sunday, which was Empire Youth Sunday. Both dates passed without formal announcement.

Now they're forecasting Empire day, next Saturday.

Horse Show Ends

Calgary Horse Wins Jumping Sweepstake

One of the most successful light horse shows in the city's history closed Saturday night as more than 4,000 patrons saw Huntsman, Calgary's spectacular Dominion champion jumper, win the $300 sweepstake from another Calgary entry, Ardeleno, owned by Miss Doris Littlewood.

HUNTSMAN posted two perfect rounds in the sweepstake, and thrilled the large audience as Barner Willans put him over a hurdle that measured just short of six feet.

Miss Littlewood's Ardeleno took the hunter championship of the show in a very close decision over Miss Janet McDougall's Peggy O'Neill, the Edmonton entry having previously won the heavyweight hunter class.

Saturday afternoon thousands of enthusiastic children thronged to the arena to witness judging in the children's classes, and were most generous in their appreciation of horsemanship displayed by the junior riders.

The Mayland Ltd., horse took the Kinmen challenge trophy when he captured the sweepstake. The trophy was presented to the rider by Tom Shandro, president of the Edmonton club.

HUNTSMAN and Ardeleno tied for first place in the open jump, and their owners agreed to split first and second prize money. Third place in this event was taken by Trade Wind, from the Gardner Pirmez Creek stable.

Red Scientist Changes Hearts Of Living Dogs

MOSCOW, May 19 (AP)—Vladimir Demikov, 30-year-old Russian physiologist, has succeeded in replacing the hearts and lungs of dogs with the respective organs of other dogs, the Moscow News said Sunday.

The experiment was completed on seven dogs, all of which came through the operation satisfactorily, although none lived more than eight days.

Demikov said the dogs behaved normally and were able to eat and drink after the operation. He explained that death was not the result of any disturbance in the heart action, but was caused by pleurisy.

Russian scientists have had considerable success in transplanting the hearts of frogs, but Demikov's experiments were the first reporting success with warm-blooded animals.

British Consider Swap Jet Planes

LONDON, May 19.—(AP)—The Sunday Empire News said yesterday that the British cabinet was considering a Russian offer to trade grain and industrial raw materials for British-made jet planes and technical and scientific processes. "The foundation for the gigantic barter was laid by Foreign Secretary Bevin at the Moscow conference," the weekly paper said. Another weekly, The People, independent politically, said in an unsigned front-page column: "Inside tip of diplomatic experts is that Mr. Bevin will pull off a surprise deal with Russia in the next six months. And it may be one that will cause consternation in America."

Maynard Should Explain

Premier Ernest Manning commits a grave political error with potential party repercussions when he attempts to condone and even make light of Attorney-General Lucien Maynard's connection with the hotel business in Alberta.

The premier admits that Mr. Maynard is part owner of a hotel at Wanham, a hotel which received a loan from the Alberta treasury branches and whose chief asset is a beer parlor, the control of which falls indirectly under Mr. Maynard as chief law enforcement officer.

Everyone will agree with Mr. Manning that there is nothing to prevent cabinet ministers owning stock in companies and conversely that there is nothing to prevent a hotel owner from becoming a cabinet minister. All that is quite true. But the circumstances which surround the ownership of hotels and their highly valuable beer licenses, which sometimes bring as much as $100,000 in the speculative market, make this kind of investment quite different in character from others.

Hotels are subject to rigid government control. Beer licenses, at present, are gambling tokens. In other words, speculation in beer licenses has become a big money racket in Alberta.

It is most improper, and obviously improper, then, that a minister of the crown should allow himself to get involved in any such deals—particularly a minister whose specific duty it is to direct law enforcement.

Premier Manning, quite clearly, is in grave error when he refers to Mr. Maynard's position in this affair as a perfectly normal situation and to his deal—as an ordinary business transaction.

Ministers of the crown, who must not only be above suspicion, but above all appearance of suspicion, have been dismissed for less than this.

At the very best, Mr. Maynard's connection with this affair is a stupid political blunder. And the first thing the public should ask, and undoubtedly will ask, is a frank and full statement from the attorney-general as to how he got mixed up with a beer license speculation when common sense should have warned him of the dangers to his cabinet position.

To put it generously, Mr. Maynard does not appear to possess the sound judgement essential to the high office of attorney-general.

The Musical Festival

With 675 entries, which, including members of choirs, choruses and other groups, will mean about 3,000 participants, the fortieth annual Alberta Musical Festival commenced today. Two auditoriums will be required to take care of the competitions, which will run throughout the week, and the whole will be concluded with a concert by outstanding winners on Saturday night.

The growth of the festival has been remarkable. There were 100 entries in 11 classes at the first festival in 1908. There are 251 classes this year to provide for the vastly increased number of competitors.

Such growth and expansion could take place only through a great appeal to the public, and by wise direction by the successive committees in charge.

It is a matter of satisfaction to this city and this province, that the first musical festival in Canada took place here. Since then nearly every province has its own and similar events are springing up in all sections of the United States.

To the festival and the two distinguished adjudicators who have come from Great Britain; all success to you.

Make it National in Fact

The British Columbia branch of the Canadian Legion proposes that Canada's flag consist of the Red Ensign with the Union Jack in the first quarter and a maple leaf on the fly.

There is to this the very real objection that the maple leaf is not in fact a symbol known and recognized by people who live half of the settled area of Canada. Maples grow only in the eastern provinces and in British Columbia. They do not grow in the prairie provinces. What is called here the Manitoba maple" is not a maple, and its leaf bears little resemblance to those of the Eastern or British Columbia maples.

It is surely desirable that the national flag should bear symbols of nation-wide significance, with which people in all parts of the Dominion are familiar. Any other design would make it a regional, not a national, emblem. If the flag is supposed to inculcate feelings of national unity, the inclusion of a maple leaf would not help to that end. Rather it would give the residents of half the Dominion a feeling that the older provinces and British Columbia do not think the prairie provinces important enough to be given representation on the supposedly "national" flag.

Substitute Canada's coat of arms for the maple leaf, and the design suggested by the B.C. branch of the Legion would be more widely acceptable than any other that has been proposed. Acceptable because the flag would give equal representation to every province. It would therefore be a flag that people in every part of the country could cheer for, without any mental reservations or feelings of resentment.

Marriage and Divorce

In the opinion of one member of the House of Commons, the reason so many people are getting divorced these days is that the cost of living has gone up. But if so how do we account for it that so many people are getting married?

The Bureau of Statistics reports that there were 3,200 weddings in Canada during March—and March is not the favorite marrying month. If this turns out to be anywhere near the monthly average there will be 38,400 marriages in Canada this year, which would amount to a matrimonial epidemic in a nation of only 12,000,000 people. It takes two persons to make a wedding. If those who are single are doubling up at the rate of 76,800 per year, this is a greater phenomenon than the increase in divorces.

It is something more than conjecture too, that the marriage rate goes a long way to explain the other. If fewer couples married in haste fewer would repent at "leisure" and head for the divorce court.

As for the higher cost of living, if that encourages divorce, it certainly doesn't encourage marrying. But the marriage rate so far exceeds the total divorce rate that the HCOL can be no more than a minor factor in causing the domestic cleavages which end in wrecked homes. It is not true to say that any large proportion of Canadian women leave their husbands because the men do not earn more money.

The Ottawa Journal observes that budget secrets are well kept, "although there is some clever guessing." Our own idea is that the "cleverness" of a guess is its correctness, and how much of the guessing on the recent budget turned out to be right?

Having regard to the oft-repeated plea for teaching more and better French in English-speaking Canada, inclusion of the strange words "unknowned" and "deseased" on a Quebec post-office's reasons for "return to sender" suggests the urgency of a corresponding campaign for better English.

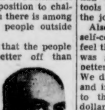
THE TIMID SOUL — by Webster

Canada on the Spot

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

OTTAWA—Canada's Minister of finance told Parliament the other day that this country was more prosperous than it had ever been in all history. There was not much argument about that in Parliament—probably less disposition to challenge the claim than there is among ordinary, everyday people outside the capital.

I am not so sure that the people of Canada are better off than they were before. I think that one could make a strong argument that the average family was at least as well off as now back in the first ten or twelve years in this century.



PHILPOTT

Certainly the average family was better housed in the first decade of the century than it is today. For many thousands of people literally have no place that they can call home. Families are not only doubled up, but tripled and quadrupled up.

But—conceding for the sake of argument the claim that Canada is at a peak—what are the prospects? Can we, Second, the spectators of Canadian leaders think of the outlook?

HERE IN OTTAWA there is a general disposition to be more self-confident than we used to be.

Canada came through the war potentially more prosperous than ever before.

True, we owed a big debt—but all to ourselves. We had taken the money out of one pocket to put it in another. But as a by-product of that transaction we had maintained full production during the war.

We finished the war with a factory capacity and physical equipment capable of turning out goods at a rate undreamt-of before the crisis. In other words, the war had actually given us the extra tools with which we could finish the job.

Also the war had given Canada self-confidence. Our leaders rightly feel that the general administration was good. We controlled prices better than they did in the U.S. We did our full share on land, sea and in the air. We paid spot cash to the United States for every dollar's worth of goods we bought to help light the common war. And we literally gave away war supplies to our other Allies—not even bothering to charge them up as theoretical "lease-lend" debts.

All this is encouraging. But still there is very sober thinking in the best-informed quarters in Canada's capital.

THERE ARE MANY economic experts who believe that there is a serious economic crisis just ahead. But this seems less alarming to Ottawa leaders than one might imagine.

Regardless of crises in Europe or the U.S., there appears to be a certain market for most of Canada's staple products for years to come. In this case the outlook is very different now from what it was, say, in 1929—just before the stock market crash.

What is worrying the deepest thinkers in Ottawa more than anything else is the new and costlier armament race.

The New York Times has just finished a world-wide survey which shows that, at the lowest possible reckoning, humanity is now spending $27,400,000,000 per year on armies and armaments. There are at least 19,000,000 men in uniform.

As there are just over two billion people in the world, that means that the expenditure per family runs at least $50 per year on war preparations. That amount might not seem so staggering to us here in America. But expenditure of the same amount of money on human welfare could make a near-paradise of the world within less than ten years.

WHAT IS WORRYING Ottawa thinkers is the knowledge that new forms of warfare have already made ridiculous the kind of expenditures that actually are being made.

Our army, navy and air force are still carrying on more or less as if there were no atom bombs, biophials of deadly germs, no supplies of poison gas and poison dust.

At least one authority in Canada has advanced—as a serious proposition—an absolute stop of all expenditures on all types of war preparation. This authority speaks for the right wingers (not the left), and the arch-conservative Financial Post prints his recommendations.

All of which points to this: Canada's top-level thinkers are very unhappy about the unsettled state of world affairs. Many of them realize that Canada is caught—on the spot, so to speak—between the giants to north and south of us.

No country has so much to gain from peace, and none so much to lose from war, as Canada.

Wheat and the Senate

BY CHESTER BLOOM

OTTAWA—The Senate continues to attempt to reconcile the Canadian Wheat Board's unlimited compulsory export delivery powers with the four-year British import wheat agreement. The first amendment in the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee by Senator Norman Lambert has brought this inconsistency into sharp focus.

Senator Lambert's amendment, strongly supported by Senator T. A. Crerar and other members of the committee, provides that the Wheat Board's compulsory powers expire when and if the British wheat agreement becomes inoperative. The amendment rests on two chief grounds.

First that the preamble to Bill 23 states its legislative intent is to implement the Canadian-United Kingdom wheat agreement for four years. Second, the specific wording of the agreement confines its life to four crop years— 1946-47 to 1949-50 inclusive, with the proviso that the minimum prices—$1.25 and $1.00 for the last two years respectively, are subject to negotiation.

The objecting senators contend that the compulsory powers given the Wheat Board in Bill 23 over delivery, transit and storage of Canadian wheat for export should be limited to the actual operation of the British agreement.

Suppose, asked senators, that in 1947-48, the world price of wheat is far above say $3 or more the minimum price of $1.25 fixed for the third year in the British wheat agreement. Specified that in negotiating that price further, the parties shall take into consideration how much Canadian growers suffered in the difference between the world price and the actual price of wheat which the United Kingdom got the wheat in the first two years. But suppose the gap is so great and it appears quite possible that neither the British nor the Canadians can agree on a compromise.

Mr. Henry Monk, the Winnipeg solicitor for the Canadian Wheat Board, gave the opinion that the agreement was in the nature of a treaty between nations and that it contained no sanctions for enforcement.

In the language of diplomacy, that means either party or both, jointly, could denounce it. If that happens, argued the objecting senators, why the necessity of keeping on the statutes indefinitely the extraordinary compulsory powers of the board over delivery of wheat for export?

Senators Lambert, Crerar, Haig and others contend that the compusory powers granted the board are intended only to implement the export of wheat to Britain under the agreement. There is nothing in the preamble of the bill to show it was intended that the board's powers should continue if the export agreement falls through in the last two years.

But Mr. Monk argued the government might want to negotiate a new contract through the Wheat Board and could not if the board's compulsory powers were terminated. Still, the senators point out, the board had no such powers when the present British contract was negotiated. The real desire for such autocratic powers, most senators believe, was indicated in replies of both Mr. Monk and chairman George McIvor of the board —that they were necessary if the board was going to pay an initial price of $1.35 for two years in the five year pool, and guarantee a floor price to farmers. In other words, the real concern of the board is with implementation of the five year pool rather than filling export quotas to Britain.

"I do not represent a sewing machine firm, nor any who sells wireless sets, gramophones, electric cleaners or motor cars."

"I'm not a collector either of rates, information or accounts—I find it hard enough to collect a living myself."

The reassurances had their effect: the door was there a sign of the door closing.

"I'm not a canvasser for any political party, and I don't want details for a directory."

The householder stared at him.

Everyone's Problem

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

I was interested to read recently in a magazine devoted to news from various parts of the Empire that both Australia and South Africa, while anxious to obtain immigrants from Britain, warned that housing shortages made it inadvisable for any man to bring his family with him for the present. There is always something comforting about learning that others are faced with the same problems that you are.

Australia however is importing some hundreds of men skilled in the building trades from Britain and is giving them free passage. They are described as the "advance party" of many thousands who are expected to come later. South Africa, on the other hand, is advertising for skilled tradesmen of all kinds. Canadian immigration up to the present is being pretty well limited to agricultural and bush workers, farmers with sufficient capital to start farming operations, and relatives of persons already resident in this country.

ALL THREE of the Dominions are faced with pretty much the same problems. First of all they each need larger populations in order that their economies may be balanced—that is at the present time they are unable to consume themselves the large amount of agricultural and other primary products they produce. Thus they need skilled workmen for secondary industries at least as much, if not more, than they require labor for the primary industries.

All three of them are hampered by a shortage of housing which is so severe that even their present populations are suffering from the shortage. This means that any flood of immigrants now will only complicate the already serious housing shortage. And the shortage of shipping space puts a limit on even the number of priority immigrants who can obtain passage from Europe or Britain.

However, both South Africa and Australia are offering priority to British immigrants. In Canada opinion on immigration is so seriously divided that there is objection even to immigrants from Britain. There is need in this country for a lot more public discussion on the immigration question so that we can reach some agreeable conclusion before the government can establish a satisfactory policy.

AUSTRALIA seems to be on the right track in importing men skilled in the building trades as first priority immigrants. This will permit them to make strides towards meeting their present demand for houses for their own people and leave them in a position to provide homes for the immigrants when they arrive.

There are hundreds of thousands of people in Britain and Europe who hope more than anything else that some day in the not too distant future they may be permitted to come to Canada to live and earn their livings. We need them to balance our economy. If we delay our decision in this question too long we may lose the best of them to one of the other Dominions.

SERVICE IS SPLENDID

Editor, Bulletin—I have noticed, in recent weeks, a number of letters complaining of damaged or non-delivered parcels, addressed to parts of England, and one writer urged others to write of their experiences.

We have been, for some time, sending two parcels each month, to London, and we have yet to have a complaint of either non-delivery or damage, all parcels have arrived promptly and in good condition.

Of course, we take care in packing and wrapping, but we have sent fresh eggs, jars of jam, and other very breakable articles, and, as I repeatedly say, complaints to make. The service has been splendid.

OLD AGE

Editor, Bulletin—I agree that the means test in connection with old age pensions should be abolished.

How many people over seventy years of age have been able to save more than that which is required to bury them. Many have given themselves completely to hard honest work but have little to show for their labors because of high cost of living or dependents during their earning years. If by good fortune they have been able to save a little (not enough to pay income tax) it is just fortunate for them.

I agree that the middle course should be taken and abolish the means test for all over seventy who have not paid income tax for two years or more. As things stand now it appears that it is better to spend freely as one approaches the age of seventy instead of saving, otherwise a little extra will prevent securing the pension.

Institutions for the aged would not be so crowded if a substantial amount, say $35 a month, were paid to all over seventy. This amount would allow for one's keep in the country or small town and make the remaining years of the pensioner a great deal happier. The little extra over and above the pension could be used for clothes and a few extras. Surely those who have reached "three score years and ten" deserve a little comfort in their declining years.

If the means test were abolished and a substantial pension paid, old age would be looked forward to in a different light from what it is today. I would suggest that something be done immediately so that those who are eligible may benefit before it is too late.

TRAINING CHILDREN

Editor, Bulletin—I join in registering disgust but not surprise at the cruelty shown by young children.

Listening to various Mothers' Day programs on the radio and the really sticky sentiments expressed by various speakers, it is not to be wondered at that mothers gather the idea that sentiment and emotionalism will bring up a beautiful family, especially if the child is given a real good sound strapping when one has lost one's temper. In the first place often the toddler or small child has to give way to a small baby who gets all the attention.

Naturally all babies likely are a nuisance to him. It is one thing to produce a child but another to train it, and of course if the child is a male of the species he will grow up a little barbarian known as the "real boy" who torments his sisters and those younger.

There is still a great deal of cruelty in this Canada of ours. It would be truly wonderful if the teaching of our Christian Leader were really tried.

THE POOL DRIVER

Editor, Bulletin—For years I have been reading statistics about homicidal motor car drivers. I have read endless futile columns about the maimed, halt and blind victims of incompetent or drinking drivers, but the slaughter and mayhem continues. Ninety-five percent of the accidents should not occur, and would not occur if the killers and maimers were promptly and severely punished.

Were our existing traffic laws rigidly administered without fear, favor or affection (I think that is the correct legal jargon), the ghastly highway toll of human life and limb would be practically stopped within twelve months. Statistics, threats and adjectives on the fool drivers are as water on a duck's back.

All the plausible excuses for sottenness or sentence leave me cold: the only thing the dangerous driver understands—and dreads—is swift and drastic punishment.

MARGARINE

Editor, Bulletin—The dairy farmers of Canada are not yet satisfied with their treatment from the government. They told Mr. Gardiner so on Saturday. They want rationing of butter abolished and no ceiling price. Evidently they have a lot of butter to sell to those who can afford to pay the present or higher price for it and will produce greater quantities to supply increased demand. They have no concern that many householders in Canada cannot afford to buy butter at the present price, and having no substitute must eat their bread dry.

A nice gesture by the butter producers would be an announcement that they were not adverse from the cancellation of the ban on margarine. I don't think their sales would be greatly affected by the placing of the substitute on the market. Here's hoping!

Editor, Bulletin—Every day, something goes up in price, be it butter or chocolate bars. Someone has a worthwhile saying that if there is anything free, they would take lots of it. Well, I have noticed that one thing free is air, which no one seems to pay for one's use of.

Riding on the street-cars and buses, particularly during the few warm days that we have had, everyone of us is so over and above full with the windows down without the benefit of fresh air. I will admit that our city air is not as clean as it could be, but that is one of the drawbacks of living in the city. If more people took some good deep breaths of air, there would be less grumpiness in this world. Fresh air is free; so why don't we take more of it than we do?

OLEOMARGARINE

Editor, Bulletin—Butter has been increased to fifty-five cents a pound. What are the poor people going to do about the increase?

Twice within the past few months the Senate has voted down a motion to have made and sold the production of it would be a blessing to the poor people of Canada and would save thousands of pounds of butter. Why should it be prohibited simply to benefit the dairy men and the farmers at the expense of all others? We are a long suffering people.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

There is no sport which can quite take the place of swimming! It is adaptable to practically any age. Grandmothers can swim with their grandchildren and many individuals for whom the more strenuous sports are prohibitive, can indulge in non-competitive swimming. Then, too, this exercise combines sun, water, fresh air and exercise in a most delightful way.

Since in swimming the body weight is supported by water, it is especially good for relaxation and for weight gaining. Nervous people respond wonderfully to it and those who are troubled with insomnia often find themselves sleeping like babies after a day at the beach or an afternoon swim. So far as figure is concerned, it is superlative! It firms the bust and streamlines with building bulging muscles. In fact, it builds only lovely contour.

The breast stroke is a wonderful spinal exercise and is corrective to the flabbiness on the inner and outer leg to which so many women fall heir. This stroke is also splendid for correcting poor posture, especially round shoulders. I think everyone who swims should do many lengths of the breast stroke. If you do not know how to swim, you might add it to summer goals which will create health and beauty! Swimming also has an added advantage in that it is one of the few sports which we can indulge in without becoming overheated in summer weather. In fact, I gather that by now you know that I am a swimming enthusiast!

Unless there is some special systemic or organic reason, you can begin learning to swim at any age. If you have never enjoyed this activity, why not begin this summer? If you are afraid of the water you can condition yourself for swimming in your own bathroom. Fill the bowl with water. Take a deep breath and hold it, while you close your mouth and submerge your head under water. Hold a few seconds and come up. Exhale.

After you have become accustomed to this, do the following. Take a deep breath, filling your lungs with air. Close your mouth, submerge your head in the bowl and blow bubbles by exhaling the air through your nose. Before all the air is gone, lift your head from the water. This practice will go a long way toward ridding yourself of a water phobia. Once you learn breath control you will have gone a long way toward experiencing a feeling of safety.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is undesirable to put a baby down with the bottle and let him lull himself to sleep with the nipple in his mouth. To do this complicates the weaning process when the child is taking milk by cup—but demands the bottle at bedtime because without it he cannot go to sleep.

Mrs. T. begs me to help her break this habit which makes it impossible for her 19½-month-old daughter to go to bed without screaming and vomiting her meal, if she is denied the bottle.

Try being less drastic about removal of the bottle. Reduce the amount in it by one ounce, then two ounces, then three ounces and gradually the child will get used to lying down and taking an ounce or so from the bottle and falling asleep. Meanwhile, substitute some other bedtime companion, a pet toy animal or doll to which the child usually can become attached, and forget about the bottle. Do not give the bottle in the daytime. Take the bottle away from her as soon as she has emptied it so she won't use it as a soother.

Mrs. H. M. D. N. approves of the advice given in the column about stammering. She found that her children stammered because of the tenseness she aroused by hurrying them so much of the time. "I was very patient with my children, took time out to listen intently when they talked and told them they needn't hurry. I have been rewarded because my children, who stammered terribly, no longer do so."

Mrs. Y. W.: The period from 2 to 3 years or thereabouts is marked by noticeable negativism from children. They oppose what we want them to do. From the little you have told me my guess would be that the "mad anger" you feel toward the child is the motivation for her own conduct. You are partial to the smaller child; you are enraged at her actions and she knows it.

Sometimes the only way to influence the child to be better is for the parent to change. If you will give her more love and attention and appreciation as an individual, you may find that she will be miraculously changed. I suggest, too, that you send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and let me send you leaflets No. 69 dealing with "Selfishness and Jealousy," and No. 72 "When the Child Says 'No.'"

Our leaflet No. 44, "Teaching Use of Cup and Spoon," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the Edmonton Bulletin.

Oil Official Returns To City

A man who pioneered in the search for oil in Alberta back in 1919 returned to Edmonton Saturday to witness at first hand the successful culmination of a long, costly search. He is John Ness of the public relations staff of Imperial Oil Co. Ltd., Toronto.

In 1919 Mr. Ness was a geologist with the company and was for a year in the company offices in the Tegler Building when exploration and development was carried out in Wainwright, Fabyan, Czar and several other Alberta districts.

Now that it appears certain that Imperial has a valuable producing field near Leduc Mr. Ness is back in witness what may prove to be the end of a long, long trail.

Interviewed Saturday at the Macdonald hotel, Mr. Ness commented on the great advances in the technique of drilling since 1919.

At that time it required up to two years to drill 3,500 feet with the old-fashioned cable tool.

Now, with modern rotary drills, a hole can be drilled to 5,000 feet in about six weeks.

With Mr. Ness is Jerry Moses, staff photographer with Imperial Oil Ltd. from Toronto.

GRAVITATION HOLDS UNIVERSE TOGETHER

Take a pencil in your fingers. Let it go. It will fall to the floor. Water runs downhill. An automobile will coast downhill, with the engine turned off, but you need the engine's power to send the car uphill.

All things on earth are being pulled toward the center of the globe by a force which we call gravitation. Through this force, the earth is attracting all things that are on it; and all things on it are attracting the earth. Not only that, but every object on earth attracts every object, no matter how small they are or how far apart they are.

This attraction is extremely small between ordinary bodies. But the masses of the sun and earth are so big that, even at a distance of 93,000,000 miles, they attract each other with a force of 4,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons. Greater bodies have greater attracting force than lesser bodies, as in a tug of war.

The same force works throughout the universe. The moon and earth attract each other; and they are attracted by the sun. All the other planets and bits of matter that wheel around the sun do so because of the attracting force of gravitation. Farther out in space, all the stars in the sky attract each other.

Thus we see that gravitation is the force by which the universe is balanced and held together. Gravitation acts according to a law which was discovered by Isaac Newton in the 17th century.

The law may be stated in this way: Every body of matter in the universe attracts every other body along a straight line between them. The force is greater between two heavy bodies than between small ones. It is greater between near objects than between things farther away.

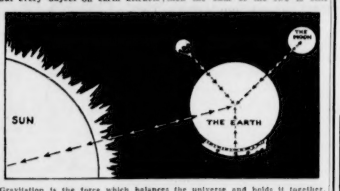
When a thing starts to fall, it falls faster and ever faster as it approaches the earth. The airplane pilot is acting on this knowledge when he "bails out." He can safely fall for a few seconds without opening his parachute, for the rate of falling is not great at first.

Until the great scientist Galileo disproved it, people thought that a heavy body would fall to the earth faster than a light body. Galileo applied some clever reasoning and showed that all bodies, light and heavy, must fall to the earth at the same rate.

He reasoned as follows: If a light body is attached to a heavy body, then the sum of the two is still heavier—therefore the combined bodies should fall at a faster rate than the heavy body alone. But if a light body falls more slowly than a heavy body, it should have a slowing-up effect on the heavy body. Now, the two statements contradict each other. Therefore the idea that a heavy body falls faster than a light body must be wrong.

Galileo actually proved that all bodies fall with the same speed by dropping two bodies of unequal weights from the Leaning Tower of Pisa. They hit the earth at the same time. This famous demonstration was the beginning of experimental physics.

Of course, the air will resist for a while the fall of such things as feathers. But barring the resistance of the air, which can be noticed only in the case of very light things, all objects, regardless of their mass, fall toward earth at the same rate of speed, which steadily increases. This gain in speed is called the acceleration of gravitation.



Gravitation is the force which balances the universe and holds it together. The sun, earth and moon each attract one another. The man in the parachute and the train on the earth are both attracted to the centre of the globe.

Poilsh Veterans Due Next Month

By VICTOR MACKIE

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 10—A group of 500 additional Polish veterans are coming to Canada to work on farms next month and will be distributed "proportionately" across the agricultural provinces, Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor told The Bulletin Saturday.

There are already 2,000 Polish soldiers working on Canadian farms and plans call for the total being raised to 4,500. The remaining 1,500 will be brought out in groups of between 400 and 500, he said.

He had no figures on how many of the Poles out of the next contingent of 500 would be allocated to Manitoba and to Saskatchewan farms. It is expected, however, that close to 100 will go to each prairie province.

Cubs Stop Robinson But Lose to Dodgers

NEW YORK, May 19 — Brooklyn Dodgers came through with a four-run rally in the seventh inning Sunday to hand Chicago Cubs their fifth straight National League loss but the Brooks saw their Negro first baseman—Jackie Robinson—stopped by three Cub hurlers to snap his hitting streak at 14 straight games.

Before 46,572 paid customers at Chicago, the Dodgers were on the short end of a 2-0 score going into the seventh when they got across four counters to put the game on ice. Robinson came up with the bases loaded but struck out.

However, Pete Reiser doubled to score two runners and the others came on an infield out and a walk after two intentional passes.

IN OTHER National League contests Pittsburgh and New York split a doubleheader while Cincinnati and Boston also divided their two games and Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from St. Louis.

At Pittsburgh, veteran Ernie Lombardi hit his first two home runs of the season to drive in six runs and help New York Giants take an 11-6 decision over the Pirates. In the first game a ninth inning Pittsburgh rally brought the Pirates a 7-6 victory.

RED BARRETT pitched five-hit ball to give Boston Braves a 3-1 victory in the nightcap at Cincinnati after the Reds took the opener 2-1. Barrett's victory enabled Braves to retain top spot in the loop.

At St. Louis, two southpaw Philadelphia Phillies pitchers— Ken Heintzelman and Ken Raffensberger—hung 6-3 and 1-0 defeats on the luckless Cardinals.

IN THE AMERICAN League, White Sox swept a doubleheader from Washington Senators, Philadelphia Athletics took two games from St. Louis Browns and in the loop's other game Cleveland Indians edged New York Yankees 5-3. The Detroit-Boston doubleheader was rained out.

Chicago staged two-run rallies in the ninth innings of their games with Washington to sweep the doubleheader by 4-2 and 5-2 scores.

AT PHILADELPHIA, the Athletics wons the first game from St. Louis Browns 4-3 as Denny Galehouse issued a base on balls to force in the winning run. The A's took the nightcap 3-2 on three unearned runs on two Brownie errors.

In the single game at New York, Cleveland Indians belted their former teammate, Allie Reynolds, out of the box in the eighth with a three-run rally to whip the Yankees 5-3.

Edmonton Aces Capture Tennis Challenge Cup

CALGARY, May 19 — (CP) —Johnny Stott and Dr. Harold Richards of Edmonton, challengers for the Harry C. King Memorial Trophy in the first major tennis event of the 1947 season, scored a surprising upset at the Calgary tennis club Sunday when they defeated Gordon McLaws and Ross Wallace.

Catching the defenders off form except in the first set, the Northerners won 6-8, 6-1, 7-5 and 6-1 by showing an aggressive net attack.

A LARGE CROWD gathered on the sidelines to see the match in which the two Calgary boys started as heavy favorites, but after the first set it was evident the challengers had too much on the ball for the Calgary defenders.

Several other challenge games are expected shortly, Calgary planning an early attempt to bring the trophy back to the Foothills City.

Tuxis Title Goes To Spruce Grove

Spruce Grove group carried off the Harold Fazackerly Trophy, emblematic of supremacy on the athletic field by Tuxis and Trail Rangers in Edmonton and district, at the annual spring roundup.

Spruce Grove chalked up 451 points out of a possible 600, while McDonald Baptist finished in the runner-up spot with 444. There were six different events, with 100 allotted for each.

THE EVENTS were: running high jump, running broad jump, 50-yard sprint, Potato race, ball throwing and shot put.

A total of 91 boys competed, with the silver loving cup for the best individual performance going to Kenneth Munro of McDonald Baptist, who scored 360 points out of a possible 600. Milton Miller, of Spruce Grove finished second with 541, Earl Nelson, Spruce Grove had 532, Roland Cook, Wesley, 528, Lloyd Davis, Eastwood, 525, and John Leach, Wesley, 524.

Edmonton's five-club junior baseball circuit got under way with a doubleheader at Clarke Stadium afternoon, Canadians and South Side, last year's winners and runners-up respectively, finishing in a 6-6 deadlock and Maple Leafs living up to pre-season predictions of their coach, Walter Callahan, by stopping CNR (Calder) 6-1. The above picture shows Hadley Quick (left) and Wally Aldridge, coaches of Canadians and South Side, conferring just before the opening ceremony. Canadians won four games each week, EAC and Canadians playing at 7 o'clock tonight.

Maple Leafs Triumph As Junior Ball Opens

Eight hundred fans jammed the stands and overflowed the infield at Clarke Stadium yesterday afternoon to see four junior baseball teams tear the cover off the 1947 season. They weren't disappointed. In the first tussle of the twin bill Canadians battled to a 3-3 stalemate with South Side, and in the final game the Maple Leafs outscored the CNR nine 6-1.

Each team scored in the first frame. For Canadians shortstop Doug Clark pounded a ringing triple to left and scored on Jack Sugden's two base clout to the same field. Snub Side broke into the score column when Kasting singled, stole second, and raced home on a solid double from the bat of hefty Dave Ellis.

IN THE SEVENTH inning Len Carlson rifled a stinging drive to left that was good for a two base but he failed to touch third on his trip around the bases. South Side missed their chance in the eighth. Kasting attempted to steal third base with nobody out and was caught off the bag. Minutes later Callahan singled and could easily have scored Kasting from second.

Canadians grabbed a 3-1 lead in their half of the third on an error, a single, a stolen base, and a fly ball. The South Side crew bounced back with a brace of runs in the fourth. Two errors, a single, and a stolen base put men on second and third. Denny Smith then stepped into a Fleming pitch and shot a single into left field to score two runs.

THE SCORE REMAINED tied throughout the next four frames. Rival flingers, Fleming for CAC and Callahan for SSAC, each allowed seven hits, with the former striking out five and the latter whiffing ten. Doug Clark and Jack Sugden paced the Canadians with the willow, while Emil La Branche turned in a smart catching performance. Callahan and Ellis led the South Side assault, and centrefielder Owen McDowell shone on the defensive.

WALTER JOHNSON'S Maple Leafs erupted for four runs in the second inning of their game with CNR for their winning effort. Singles by Dave Evans, and Keats Barry, three railway boots, two stolen bases, and a passed ball put the Mapleos four up. They added singletons in the fourth and fifth before CNR scored, their lone marker in the seventh.

Dick Lowe served up a commendable mound performance for the losers. In the five innings he flipped them in only fifteen railroaders faced him. He struck out five men and made the others hit into the dirt or to the outfield. Wally Yakimowich replaced Lowe in the sixth, giving up two hits in two innings. Dave Evans paced the Maple Leaf drive with a single and a towering home run in the third.

AL LUKLAN went the route for CNR and gave up a half dozen blows. Four errors behind him spoiled his effort. Busher Jackson and Irish McGinley connected for the two CNR hits, with the Jackson's sock helping to score the lone CNR run in the sixth.

Noted Race Horse, Seabiscuit Dies

UKIAH, Calif., May 19.—(AP)—Seabiscuit, one of the most famous race horses of modern times died Saturday night at owner C. S. Howard's Ridgewood ranch near Ukiah.

A veterinarian said the 14-year-old horse died from a heart attack.

Seabiscuit was retired to stud after winning the Santa Anita handicap in 1940.

Howard bought Seabiscuit for $8,000 when the horse was three years old and the Biscuit started in 89 races and won 33 of them. He placed second in 15 and third in 13. One of Seabiscuit's most famous victories was over War Admiral in a match race.

Cubs and Eskimos In First Place Tie

Big Four Clubs Win and Lose During Weekend

Cubs and Eskimos broke even in Big Four Inter-City Baseball League games over the weekend, the Chevroiet nine taking Saturday night's game at Renfrew Park 7-4, but dropping the Sunday afternoon's 4-1 to Purity 99, while the Eskimos were losing 8-2 and winning 6-1 against Buffaloes at Calgary.

As a result the Edmonton clubs are sitting on top in the league standing and go into Tuesday's fixture at Renfrew on even terms, both having a pair of wins and a loss.

ONLY 700 FANS decided Saturday night wasn't too chilly to watch a game here and they saw Milton Trann, former Edmonton junior, outpitch the local John Burke.

Both were liberal with walks, the Cub chucker issuing four passes and Burke exactly twice as many. Trann however, was steadier in the clutches than his opponent and only two of the four runs scored against him were earned, although the Calgarians nudged him for 10 hits.

CUBS TOOK the lead in the first frame and were never headed. Al Superstein, who had a big afternoon with two hits, a pair of walks and three stolen bases, started Burke on the road to defeat by coaxing four wide ones. DeMarco sacrificed and Lippincott contributed the necessary single to send Al in from second.

Superstein made it 2-0 in the third, hitting safely past short, stealing second, going on to third when the catcher's throw to catch him went through Huckaby who was covering the second sack. He scored on DeMarco's single to centre short to first. Lippincott reached Masikewich for the third run with a drive into left field in the same frame.

ANDY CLOVECHOK drove in McGill and Martin for two more in the fifth. An error on McGill's ground ball in left, and Martin's double (his third hit of the night), a balk by Burke and another error gave the Cubs two more.

John Carpenter, who was with the Calgary Rainers last season, kept the Cubs well under control before a Sunday afternoon crowd of 3,500 and deserved his 4-1 win. Even Edmonton's own pitcher pahs as the big fellow had a shutout until the seventh and never permitted more than one hit to an inning.

John Bass was impressive in his Renfrew Park debut. The Portland lad looked good in relief, not issuing a single pass and although Calgary collected eight hits, only two of the four runs scored were earned.

Singles by Weaver and Maze with an error by Shortstop De-Marco gave the latter run in the second and Maze tripled ahead of Carpenter's safety into centre for another in the fifth. Two more came from the same hit, three-bagger second error and a couple of fielders' choices, in the ninth.

The second of Nick Masikewich's three hits, a stolen base and the only two walks given by Carpenter, plus an error by Huckaby averted a shutout for Cubs.

Highlands Tightens Grip on Golf Trophy

Highland golfers, who have built up a deep affection for the McMullen trophy during the past year, have all but decided to keep the coveted golf prize on their mantle for at least another 12 months.

Yesterday they turned back the threat of the Mayfair club 66-34 and forged into a 50-point lead in the inter-club competition with only one more match to go.

THE MUNICIPALS were the surprise packet of yesterday's play. After taking an 80-30 licking from the Highlands a week ago, the Civic Club players came back and routed the Country Club 73-27. The one-sided win boosted them into third place, just three points behind the Mayfair.

Although Arne Loizo, professional at the Country Club, and Johnny Letke took some rough treatment from Buddy Loftus and Dan Pedersky, the visitors had the satisfaction of taking at least one hole by a wide margin.

IT WAS THE 125-yard 12th, and Lozo was the lad who took charge of the situation. He took a no. 8 from his bag and fired a beautiful shot straight for the pin. The ball pitched on the green and trickled into the cup for an "ace".

The golf was generally good at all four clubs. The Country Club players found the Municipal greens a trifle fast, but the Municipal "B" players solved the putting touch at the Country Club, for they collected 43 out of a possible 56 points.

HENRY MARTELL, the Dominion champion, and R. Kidd bumped into a pair of smooth swingers and Johnny Aitken at the Mayfair when they met A. J. "Red" Hopps and Ted Wyman.

Following are yesterday's results and the totals for the first two weeks of play:

MAYFAIR		HIGHLANDS

CALGARY, May 19—(CP)— Edmonton won 6-1 over Calgary Buffaloes here Sunday before 3,500 fans to gain a 2-1 edge in their big four baseball league series.

SATURDAY'S contest saw Jack Stove give a fine display of hurling, with timely hits by Ray Humble driving in three runs.

Big Alex Uffiemann started the Sunday game for Buffs and handcuffed Esks for four innings but weakened in the fifth. Bradley relieved him in the sixth, but was touched for two successive doubies in the eighth,then gave up two rounds in the ninth.

Leo Douziech allowed Buffaloes only three hits Sunday afternoon.

The Trail of '98

WHEN the great Klondike gold rush started in 1898, the Manufacturers Life was eleven years old. That it was, even then, an enterprising and energetic company is evidenced by its participation in that stirring adventure.

Equipping one of its representatives with a dog team and the other necessary accoutrements for arctic travel it despatched this business adventurer over the hazardous trail of '98 to sell Life Insurance to the workers in the gold fields. It was a very successful mission.

There have been many such episodes of rugged determination in the sixty year history of the Manufacturers Life. The pioneer spirit, allied with vision and sound management has placed the Company in the forefront of the world's leading Life Insurance Companies.

Moose Pace Fastball With Third Victory

The Moose are perched on top of the Senior Men's Fastball League today with the distinction of being the only team in the circuit that is unbeaten. They stretched their winning streak to three games yesterday with a narrow 2-1 victory over the RCAF Aces at Kingsway. In the first game of the regular Sunday doubleheader the Legionnaires whipped Precision Machinery 7-4.

Doug Grier limited the power in the Moose hickory to a pair of singles, but the lodge team made the most of their scoring chances. They grabbed the lead in the bottom half of the second and added their second score in the third. Aces chased their lone tally home in the third frame.

DICK ELLIS walked to start the Moose half of the second. He hiked to second on Al Brown's sacrifice, ambled to third, and came home on Wilbur Orr's sharp single to centrefield.

The Aces came flying back with a run in their half of the third. Ray Tracy reached second base, thanks to a double error by Wilbur Orr. Doug Boettcher then lined a routing three-bagger to left field, scoring Tracy. Boettcher died at third when the next three batters went out in order.

Moose won the contest in the third when Pete Husar singled to left, stole second, and scored on a pair of passed balls.

Legionnaires ousted Precision Machinery from the undefeated bracket in the first fixture by working Bill Ortynchuck and Bill Montgomery for seven hits and ten walks, good for seven runs. The Legion nine scored once in the first stanza and dropped behind when the Machinery crew garnered a brace in the second. Legion stormed to the attack for three runs in each of the fourth and seventh innings, while Precision pushed two across in the sixth canto.

Sam Stevenson sparkled on the attack for the Legionnaires with a home run and a single in five trips to the platter. Tadeson socked a four-bagger while Chobotuck and Sereda conked doubles for Precision. Al Young was the winning chucker, giving up six safeties and striking out two men.

Railwaymen Honored For Long Services

HANNA, May 19: Seven well-known CNR employes in Hanna and surrounding districts, retired recently after completing many years of faithful service with the company.

Three Trainmen, Bert Maxwell, conductor, Eddie Crane and Lyman Gray, switchmen, were the guests of honor at a banquet in the Alexander hotel, Drumheller. Hanna Lodge No. 923 Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was in charge of arrangements.

MR. MAXWELL has run out of Hanna since 1919, when he received his discharge from the Canadian Army, after serving overseas.

Each honored guest was presented with an engraved wallet. H. Gervais, president of the lodge here, made the presentation. J. J. Fish of Hanna, addressed the group.

OTHER RETIRED employes, George Jones, A. E. Bild, Gus Forenblad and Edward Marcell, all locomotive engineers of Hanna, were guests of honor at a recent banquet.

Good wishes and congratulations were extended by Mayor I. F. Shacker, H. A. McFayden, and A. R. Banner, assistant superintendent of the Calgary division.

Mrs. Bild, Mrs. Marcell, and Miss Jones were each presented with a floral bouquet, by Mrs. William Graham, chairman of the lodge.

Dale Smith and C. D. Mavor, rendered vocal solos. The banquet ended with a sing-song.

They upset the sulky plow, throwing Mr. Rall off and breaking two bones in one ankle. He was brought into Hanna for medical aid and returned home two days later.

Minor Fire

HANNA, May 19—A fire of little consequence, but one that caused considerable alarm, occurred last Wednesday afternoon in the kitchen of the Crystal Lunch. Orders On Prices Cancelled By Board

All orders of the provincial price spreads board, issued since the board was formed in 1939 are cancelled by a final order made public Saturday by W. D. King, deputy minister of trade and industry and board chairman.

While the board remains in existence and ready to function, under the terms of the cancellation order it exercises no controls over prices in Alberta.

It assumed control over prices of sugar, bread, butter and flour at the start of the war, but regulations it had previously passed were incorporated in federal government price control measures, making the duties of the board only nominal.

Members of the board at present, besides Mr. King are W. S. Gray, legislative counsel and W. S. Campbell, chairman of the Alberta branch of the prices board.

Plans Submitted For War Memorial

VEGREVILLE, May 19—At a recent Town Council meeting, the Canadian Legion, represented by R. H. Philip and G. T. Barr, submitted a plan for a war memorial to be located on main street between the present library and the CNR park. The proposed plan would involve widening the street, moving the library, and moving power lines and a hydrant. Decision of the council has not yet been made public.

It was announced that the Clyde Beatty Circus will visit Vegreville on Saturday, June 14.

Council granted $100 for the preparation of a tennis court in the new park.

TWO BASKETBALL teams from Vegreville high school motored to Edmonton recently for a return game at the YWCA. Team members Barbara Ross, Gena Spence, Stella Allore, Peggy Nichol, Agnes Hohn, Mary Hrechuk, Zena Luziak, Edith Pardely, Netty Lastuka, and Pearl Esak were in the group.

Mr. Balshaw of the Calgary Light and Power Co. has been surveying water mains with a special instrument designed to detect leaks.

United Church Ladies Aid, senior group, met recently at the home of Mrs. A. Little. Mrs. S. Nichol and Mrs. A. Jeffrey were assisting hostesses.

May meeting of the WMS of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. J. Fraser. Plans were made for a tea and sale of novelties and home cooking on May 31.

Hanna Reverts To Standard Time

HANNA, Alta., May 19 (CP)—After being on fast time for two weeks, citizens of Hanna voted to go back on standard time in a plebiscite taken Thursday and Friday. Clocks were put back midnight Sunday, the vote was 467 for standard time, with fast time receiving 157. Hanna, which is a railroad centre, was working on both times. Two clocks will be necessary when the children came from school on fast time and their parents on standard time.

Decide To Raise Hanna Mill Rate

HANNA, May 19—The town councillors decided at their meeting this week to raise the mill rate for 1947 by 4 mills making 40 mills. This increase is necessary in order to meet the increased requisition for the school.

Two more building permits were granted, one for the extension of All Saints Anglican Church and one to Victor Berkinshaw to be erect a garage on Third avenue at First street west.

Plans were made for extensive work on streets and sidewalks which is badly needed.

Water clocks were used by the ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans.

YOU CAN SWIM

By FRED McDERMOTT

LESSON NO 3—NOW FOR THE ARM STROKE:

The arm stroke is from the shoulder with the elbow relaxed.

Take the turtle float position. And here is a point to remember—the water line should come just above the eyebrows. Your head should not be held back as that cramps the upper shoulder and back muscles nor should your head be held down as that will act as a drag and impede your progress. Let the water act as a cushion.

FRED McDERMOTT

Now relax and start the torpedo kick. When you feel yourself in motion begin the arm stroke.

Your elbow should break the water first, and then, when you feel your hands free, throw your arm in a semi-circular movement keeping your fingers together, and your hands slightly cupped.

KEEP ELBOW RELAXED

On the catch or pull let your thumb enter the water first and before alternating bring your arm down in line with the shoulder to the hip. Keep your elbow relaxed, and while learning let your arm drop with a splash.

Take your time, and after each stroke allow the body to glide.

At first nearly everyone learning to swim has difficulty in co-ordinating both the arms and legs. That calls for practice.

To Work With Unions

Legion Studies Plan For Labor Committee

Executive of Canadian Legion Branch No. 24, will study the possibility of setting up a veterans-labor relations committee with the object of securing co-operation of trade unions on matters affecting the welfare of returned men.

THIS WAS DECIDED at a monthly meeting of the branch in the Memorial Hall Sunday, when a member representing a city teamsters-truckers union proposed a motion dealing with the question.

This member said that large transfer firms were taking action that was resulting in hardship to individual veterans operating one-truck businesses and to returned men employes of trucking firms. He said many veterans who have purchased trucks are in danger of losing their investments because of price practices of the bigger firms.

The motion led to a warning from Executive Secretary W. J. Williams, M.L.A., and other members of the branch as to the danger of stepping "outside the scope of action authorized by the Legion constitution."

Mr. Williams pointed out that the Legion is pledged to see that war veterans receive preference wherever possible but where there is friction among veterans themselves about employment he did not think it was proper for the Legion to intervene.

THERE HAD BEEN discussion previously about veterans in railway unions and in the postal services and Mr. Williams remarked:

"If veterans are working where there is union organization and do not attend union meetings it is their own fault. They should not expect the Legion to fight their battles."

A railroader member pointed out that the railway unions have in general been most sympathetic to war veterans but must operate according to their union constitution.

Mr. Williams read considerable correspondence with the Edmonton postmaster arising out of protests over letting out veterans who failed to pass civil service examinations and the employment of high school students at Station A. The veterans contended they should be given preference for part-time work at station. A at 85 cents an hour in place of high school students so employed.

The executive secretary said Postmaster Gregory had been "very fair" in his attitude and had promised employment to veterans with overseas experience to fill vacancies occasioned by other veterans who failed to examinations.

DELAY IN completion of veterans' homes on the Greirson Estate, caused by failure of sub-contractors to be paid, was further aired.

Mr. Williams read a telegram from Hon. Ian MacKenzie, minister of veterans affairs, who said the question of government policy was involved. Dominion officials now are studying the trouble concerning the Greirson and other like projects and should make a decision within the next 10 days.

Membership of the Montgomery Branch now stands at 3,435.

A. S. R. Tweedie Addresses Kinsmen

A lot is being said about the peace, "but is there enough being done about it in a practical down to earth way," A. S. R. Tweedie, assistant director of extension, University of Alberta, asked a meeting of the Kinsmen club in the Macdonald hotel, at the week-end.

The club was observing International Good-Will Week, and Mr. Tweedie's topic was "International Understanding, Tolerance, and Co-operation."

He pointed out that the future depends on the activity of young professional business men, especially those in service clubs.

Activity, he said, can start right in the home community.

Lloyd Atkinson, past commander of the American Legion in Edmonton, presented the club with a membership certificate in the World Council of young men's service clubs.

Nominations for officers for an election May 30, comprised the business agenda.

Pass Through City On Way To Alaska

Arriving in Edmonton Sunday night, another "Alaska or Bust" expedition involving two Duluth, Minnesota men, 25-year-old Raymond Plumb and 20-year-old Martin Mattson, left this morning, bound for Fairbanks.

In their black 1921 ford, they had covered more than 1,500 miles from Duluth, which they left May 15.

According to Mr. Plumb, another estimated 10 days is required to cover the rest of the journey at the car's average 30 mile per hour speed.

It was still cold in Duluth when leaving, they said, but their trip as a whole was very good. No bad weather or border trouble was experienced, and the RCMP in Edmonton had been quite.

They did not disclose their previous employment in Minnesota, but their plans in Fairbanks, will be those of homesteading. They are both single.

While here they called on Wilson Hazzard at the Grierson Service Station.

Four Escape Injury As Train Hits Car

Four persons escaped with their lives about 11 p.m. Saturday when the auto in which they were riding was struck by CNR freight train at 122 street and 111 avenue.

Driver of the auto, Lloyd W. Casselman, 10224 134 street, said he was travelling east along 111 avenue when all of a sudden his vehicle was struck by the train. He said he heard no whistle, and saw no signal. Douglas Houston 8301 100 street, a passenger in the auto gave police the same statement.

Mrs. Casselman received cuts to the chin and forehead and a deep laceration inside of the mouth. However, Royal Alexandra hospital authorities said no stitches were required. Mrs. Houston suffered a possible fractured jaw and had three teeth knocked out.

TWO CYCLISTS were also injured in traffic accidents Saturday. They were Loretta Kowalik of 103 street 106 avenue, and William Stitchman, 9548 115 street.

Miss Kowalik suffered minor abrasions to the face when her bicycle collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Maud Jowett, 11524 92 street. The accident occurred about 7 p.m. at the intersection of 98 street and 102A avenue.

Stitchman told police he was riding his bicycle along 102 avenue and when an auto going in the same direction attempted to pass it caught the parcel carrier on the cycle.

Stitchman was thrown to the road on the back of his head. Police said driver of the auto was Patrick Nugent, 9719 97 avenue. Nugent removed the injured victim to the Royal Alexandra hospital where he was treated for a cut on the left knee and a laceration to the back of the head.

Dedicate Year Book To Former Students

A new note in high school year books is sounded in the 1946-47 Strathcona High School "Tricolor," just off the press. It is dedicated "to the students of Strathcona High School who sacrificed their lives to make a better world."

An "In Memoriam" section of 40 pages contains the names of those former students of the school who did not return from the two great wars, and the pictures of many of those who died during the 1939-45 struggle.

Announcement of the Harley-Millar-Sutton memorial trophy to be presented annually to the outstanding male student of the school is made.

The trophy was presented to the school by Maj. Bruce F. MacDonald, DSO, and is named after three of the school's former students, PO J. W. Harley, FO J. W. Millar and Flt. Lt. R. R. Sutton, DFC.

The recipient of the trophy is to be "outstanding as a student, an athlete and as a man" the announcement says.

The rest of the year book contains pictures of present students, members of the faculty and all the light-hearted cameraderie which distinguishes such annuals.

The editor of the book is Jo Pilcher with Betty Deraugh and Muriel Jones as co-editors. Staff advisor is Miss M. Murray with Bill Hutchinson as advertising manager.

G. W. Robertson, principal of the school has contributed a special message to the book, which draws attention to the contribution of students to the preservation of freedom.

Architects Plan South Court House

Offers by a commercial firm operating in Lethbridge to purchase the Lethbridge court house for expansion of its premises are being considered, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works announced Monday. Government draughtsmen were proceeding with the plans for the new building.

The minister said that the firm was to be permitted to buy the old court house, providing it paid for a new building in some locality in Lethbridge satisfactory to the government.

Some delay has been experienced in obtaining a new site, Mr. Fallow said, and until arrangements to this end have been completed with the city of Lethbridge, no further progress can be made in the deal.

However the new court house will not cost the province any money, since the cost of its construction, according to the present deal will be born by the firm anxious to obtain the present building.

Delightful Playing Features Music Fest

Provincial musical and oratorial talent paraded before judges as the fortieth annual Alberta Music Festival got underway this morning, with Cornelius Fisher, of London, Eng., adjudicating violin and woodwind solos at McDougall United Church, and Prof. Robert Orchard, of the University of Alberta, fine arts department, judging speech arts classes at the Masonic Temple. Some "delightful" work the adjudicator said.

A TOTAL of 47 entrants were heard between 9:15 a.m. and noon, 29 of them in the speech arts classes and 18 in the music divisions.

One 9-year-old violinist, Wendy Bayerott, was forced to withdraw from the competitions—she had the measles.

Musical competitions continued this afternoon, and were to carry on this evening at McDougall Church.

Following are the results of this morning's music judging: class 101, violin solo under 14 years' first prize, Dolly Tkachuk, with a mark of 86 out of a possible 100; second prize, Ronnie Fox, with 78 out of 100. The selection was The Juggler, by Severn.

SOLE ENTRANT in class 102, violin solo under 15 years, was Dale Chandler, who received 160 points out of a possible 200. He played Mazurka Russe, by Glinka, and Madrigale, Simonetti.

Competition was close in class 97, violin solo under 10 years, playing Roses Dream, Lind, and A Flower Garden, Alice Barnett. First prize winner was Joyce E. Field, who received a total of 168 points out of 200. Second highest was Eugene Kropelnisky, with 163 points. Others were Ronald Ansley, 162; Charles Clark, 160, and Terrence E. Wisinski, 158.

Harlan Green, 17-year-old flautist, was the only entrant in class 154, amateur woodwind. Playing a Handelian number, he received 88 marks out of 100 for a presentation Mr. Fisher termed "very delightful."

A Calgarian, Arthur Britton, won the violin solo under 17 years competition, in which six entrants participated. He received 174 points out of 200. Second highest was Ray Yaszychuk, Edmonton, who obtained 172 marks. Other contestants were Stanley Hansen, 158 marks; Anne Butinsky, 160; Ernest Salamandick, 170; Chester Kuc, 171. Their selection was Sicilienne and Ridaudon, by Francoeur-Kreisler.

THE CLASS of violin solo under 19 years, playing the first two movements of Schott's Concerto in A Minor, Orest J. Verchomin won high standing of 165 out of a possible 200. Joyce Lesik was second with 158, and Marguerite Hopkins, Calgary, received 156 points.

Opening session of the speech arts competition took place at the Masonic Temple, with four different groups taking part in Canadian poetry and dramatics.

Students of class 187, grade 5, recited "Dina-a-Dale". The adjudicator, Prof. Robert Orchard, University of Alberta, in presenting the awards stated he did not hear much understanding of the story.

TOO MUCH articulation was given by the readers Mr. Orchard noted the fact that resonance must not be forgotten. First place was awarded to Leonard Smyth, with second place awarded to Shirley Talbot, of Camrose. Others competing were Marlayne Geiblehause; Carol Bebeau; Donald Pierce; Elizabeth Peet; Tommy Merew; Maureen Marsden, and Diane Scott.

"The Ships of Yule was recited by Class 200, in the Canadian Poetry competition for 11 years and under. Prof. Orchard stated that more understanding and feeling was presented in this group. On the whole they lost themselves in the poem. First place was awarded to Leonard Smyth, for his easy manner and good quality. For good understanding and feeling second place was awarded to David Ross, Marlayne Geiblehause; Arnold Bainbridge; Jean Craig; Donald Pierce; Shirley Talbot; Dick Pugh, and Florean O'Neill were other competitors.

IN THE DRAMATIC class for 11 years and under, first place went to Marlayne Geiblehause for her performance of a scene from "Midsummer Night Dream." David Ross, in a scene from "Ceylon" took second place. Other competitors were: Arnold Bainbridge; Shirley Talbot; Donald Pierce; Jean Craig, and Leonard Smyth.

Pat McLagen, for her portrayal of a scene from "Alice Thru The Looking Glass" captured first place in the dramatic class for 9 years and under. Second place went to Mary Ellen Duggan, Camrose. Laurie Kraut, Camrose, was the other competitor.

In closing the morning's session, Mr. Orchard stated, "The whole mornings competitions were well done. Especially by the younger children, who have the imagination to live and feel the part of the character they are portraying."

Tax Prepayments Amount To $681,167

Prepayment collections on the first instalment of city taxes for the period May 1 to May 15 totalled $681,167.28 compared with $575,789.85 for the same period last year, an increase of $105,377.43, according to Thomas Walker, city assessor.

A very heavy week-end mail has still to be handled by the assessor's office staff, and it is expected that the prepayments on the first instalment this year will exceed that of 1946 by a substantial margin.

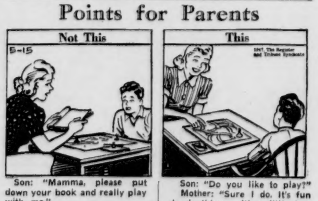
WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Points for Parents



Son: "Mamma, please put down your book and really play with me!"
Mother: "Oh, I can read and play at the same time. Go on—it's your move."

Son: "Do you like to play?"
Mother: "Sure I do. It's fun to do things with a little boy I love but I have some other things to do tonight so this is our last game."

It's the quality of our companionship—not the quantity—that shows children whether or not they are loved.

Smash Rocket Arsenal

Soviet Completes Job Started by RAF Bombs

By Eric Bourne

PEENEMUENDE, Isle of Usedom, Baltic Coast, May 19 —(Reuters)— This former island paradise which Hitler converted at a cost of $200,000,000 into a fantastic workshop of death, where he planned to win the war with an army of 11,000 slave workers toiling to turn out "V" weapons at the rate of 100,000 a year, today is a wilderness of destruction.

MASSES OF twisted steel, huge, sundered slabs of concrete and mountains of rubble and twisted steel equipment, with the grotesque framework of a gutted building here and there still swaying drunkenly in the wind, are all that is left of the great rocket arsenal with which Hitler might have won the war but for the heavy delaying blows of RAF Bomber Command in 1943.

For six hours Friday with two other correspondents I walked, climbed and drove through the vast ruined mysteries of this "city" whose name for nearly two years was as grimly significant for the people of Southern England as the name of Hiroshima was later to become for the whole civilized world.

The Russians plan to finish the demolition program by mid-June. "When we have finished, there will be nothing left at all," Major Vasiliev, 36-year-old grey-haired commandant of the Peenemuende area, said.

Britain Planning Atom Power Plant

LONDON, May 19. — (CP) — Britain's first atomic power station, a huge plant designed to produce electricity from uranium, is to be built at Drigg in Cumberland, the Express said today in a story by Science Editor Chapman Pincher. Several uranium engines will be set up, the story added, and "plans to have the first engine working within five years have been drawn up by the Atomic Energy Council and approved by the cabinet. It is estimated to cost 17,000,000 ($28,000,000).

Two Boys Killed By Falling Plane

BURLINGTON, Ia., May 19 (AP) —A navy pilot and two schoolboys were killed and six young persons seriously injured Sunday when a fighter plane went out of control at an airshow and crashed on a school playground. More than 3,500 persons at the airshow saw the Corsair fighter zoom low across the municipal airport during a mock formation raid. It went into a series of rolls, then appeared to go out of control and crashed and burned on the school grounds where 14 youngsters were playing ball.

Odom Is Planning Flight Over Poles

New Gear Shift

MILAN, May 19.—(Reuters)—A Milan engineer, Aloif Alessandro Caisser, claims to have invented a new type of gear shift which does away with gear lever, clutch and differential and, he adds, will make obsolete all previous automobile engineering. The invention is said to have nothing in common with hydraulically operated "automatic gear shifts."

City Swimming Pools Open For Season

Despite unseasonable, blustery weather approximately 1,000 patrons attended at the opening of Edmonton's swimming pools Saturday. The majority were children, who enjoyed their first swim of the year in the pools despite the cold weather. Above is a scene taken Saturday afternoon at the West End pool. The attendance at the South Side pool in Queen Elizabeth Park was 565, while at the West End pool it was 405. The East End pool in Borden Park was not opened Saturday, but will be in operation later this week.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

Tournament bridge players today travel from one end of the country to the other not only to win Master Points but to renew friendships established at other tournaments. One of the most sociable tournaments on the American Contract Bridge League's calendar is the Adirondack Tournament, which will return this year to the Hollywood Hills Hotel at Otto Forge, N.Y., June 20-22.

At last year's Adirondack tournament two experts got a bottom score on today's hand against two elderly ladies who had just taken up tournament bridge. Note the three-heart bid by South and the jump to six spades.

What would you have done if you held the East cards? Very likely you would have looked at the sweet old lady and thought "She would not psych against me. So the expert made the natural opening of the queen of diamonds.

Ottawa May Drop War Measures Act

TORONTO, May 19 (CP)—The Toronto Globe and Mail said today in a dispatch from Ottawa that there is "a strong disposition in some cabinet quarters to follow the suggestion of J. G. Diefenbaker (P.C.-Lake Center) and repeal the War Measures Act.

The legislation was shelved by the proclamation of the Emergency Powers Act which itself expired last week. "But the War Measures Act stays on the statute book and can be brought into effect again at a moment's notice by proclamation," said the dispatch.

The old War Measures Act "is no longer by itself," the dispatch continued. "No ad hoc legislation would come to the executive the same sweeping authority

Destruction of Civilization Seen if Atom War Comes

BY JACK GRAY

HAMILTON, May 19.—(CP) —Peace-time applications of atomic energy are expected to be accelerated by Canada's first disclosure of discoveries in nuclear chemistry, made at a conference which concluded at McMaster University here Saturday.

But atomic chemists from Canada's nuclear energy project at Chalk River, Ont., and a leading scientist from the United States warned privately and in speeches during the three-day meeting there might be no such applications if control of atomic energy is not vested in a world-governing body.

An atomic war might lead to destruction of civilization, said Dr. Charles Coryell of the Massachusettss Institute of Technology, who worked with the atomic bomb from its start. He told the conference in a dinner speech that a "terrible fire" hung over the world and in a later interview said that if atomic bombs started falling, widespread areas even thousands of miles from the scenes of the explosions might be so contaminated as to wipe out life.

He cited as an example the first test explosion of the atomic bomb in New Mexico. Weeks later and 2,000 miles away a photographic firm noted its films were befogged in transport. It was discovered that irradiating particles had been blown into the stratosphere to come down later and contaminate a grain field from which was taken the straw for packing the film.

"False Friends" Blamed For Crime

Edmund J. Roux, 9346 108 avenue, who received an eight-month prison term on false pretences charges in police court Saturday morning, told Magistrate A. J. Millar that "fairweather friends" were responsible for his downfall.

The accused obtained a car from Ray J. Edgar, Edmonton, by means of a worthless cheque for $1,635. Roux said he had arranged for backers to cover the cheque but later they let him down.

With regard to two cheques for minor sums which he cashed in department stores and were returned NSF, he said he had issued several cheques to his "fairweather friends" who had promised to hold them. Then, he said, they heard he had no funds and must have cashed them all at once, leaving his account short.

He was sentenced to eight months for the larger cheque and two months for each of the other two, terms to be concurrent.

Accident Gave Germans Amazing Photoelectric Cell

WASHINGTON, (NANA) — A photoelectric cell 20 to 50 times more sensitive than any known to date in the United States was developed for the German army during the war.

Full details of this so-called "Gudden cell" produced at the University of Prague, now are in the possession of the U.S. department of commerce.

The photoelectric cell is the "nerve cell" of most modern automatic mechanisms. It is the device which, for example, causes a door to open as one approaches. It is used in complex calculating apparatus and in astronomical instruments. It is simply something — many such substances are known—which generates a tiny current of electricity when light falls upon it.

Most Sensitive

The cell developed by Prof. B. Gudden of the University of Prague has a coating of impure lead sulphate which apparently is the most light-sensitive material yet known.

Before the war there had been experiments with pure lead sulphate photocells in the U.S. The substance had been abandoned, however, as not particularly effective.

Largely through accident, the Germans found that its sensivity was enormously increased if additional amounts of sulphur and small quantities of oxygen were incorporated in the chemical mixture.

They also experimented with mixtures of lead and the elements selenium and tellurium, both closely related to sulphur. Yet neither of these, at the point reached in the experiments when the war ended, was quite equal to the original chemical.

Voice Via Light

The best-known German use of photoelectric cells during the war was for voice transmision along a light beam. By means of light directed toward a sensitive plate, it was possible to carry on a simple conversation over several miles. All this was developed, however, before the full implications of the Gudden cell were realized.

With this extremely sensitive mechanism, it would be possible to operate with a very faint beam of invisible infrared light, such as could be produced with a small pocket flashlight, over at least a mile. The cell apparently is far more delicate than the human eye.

Professor Gudden—and, unbeknown to him, scientists at other universities—was experimenting at the end of the war on means to extent the sensitivity of the cells to still lower wave lengths of the infrared spectrum.

German Imposter Gets Extra Food

NEW YORK, (NANA) — Newspapers in Berlin have been filled with the trial of an enterprising German imposter.

The story begins one day last December when a smartly attired young man in a uniform-type jacket and shining riding boots presented himself at a Berlin rationing office and declared in a tone of authority: "I am an employee of the American military government in Munich. I am in charge of seven prisoners, Nazi activists, whom I have transported from Munich to Berlin. En route, our transport was attacked by bandits who stole everything, including all papers. Now the American authorities in this city refuse to take charge of the prisoners until new papers arrive from Munich. In the meantime, I am holding them locked up in a private apartment. I need ration coupons. The men are starving."

The German agency issued coupons to the bogus guard, 27-year-old Erich Hoffman, allowing him seven-men's rations for several successive periods. When, after 40 days, the "new papers" from Munich did not arrive, the rationing office balked. "If I get no more coupons, I'll have to release the prisoners," threatened Hoffman. There he overplayed his hand. Suspicious at last, the office checked and discovered the truth from American military authorities in Berlin. An American military tribunal has sentenced him to a year in prison and a 10,000-mark fine.

In commenting on the case, the berliner Zeitung called Hoffman a latter-day "Captain of Koernick," thus recalling a tale of the time cobbler from Koernick rented a captain's uniform and seized the town's funds on the charge that the mayor was an embezzler.. The story is often quoted to show the power of a uniform in Germany.

STEEL SCARCE

CLEVELAND, (AP)—A tight supply situation persists in steel products, despite record - breaking peacetime shipments from the mills, the magazine Steel said in its market summary.

"Consumer pressure for finished steel products continues unabated, being especially urgent in sheets and strip, plates," it said.

The overall supply picture "is expected to remain tight over the remainder of this year, particularly in sheets and strip," the report added. But "some important easing in supply of bars, shapes and nails is likely."

Top-Priced Bull Goes To Dayton, Wash.

Killearn Max Stamp, 14-month-old registered Shorthorn bull which topped the Gallinger bull sale at $3,600. Sired by Killearn Max 5th, this quality-bred animal went to A. D. Radebaugh, Dayton, Wash., head of a Green Giant cannery and owner of a big stock farm near the farm of C. J. Broughton who bought the highest priced bull at last year's sale in Edmonton. It brought $6,500 and it was said this price would easily have been exceeded this year had not the billing of the big Sni-Bar dispersal and other Shorthorn sales in the mid-west kept several American bidders away. Higher price range of the general run of offerings made for a good sale with average of 31 young Shorthorn bulls just above $1,400.

Montreal, Toronto Stocks

MONTREAL, (CP)—Easier tendencies continued to pre-dominate in dealings up to the fourth hour on the stock exchange and curb market Monday. Trading was mainly quiet. Mines were dull.

McColl and B.A. lost 1¼ in oils. Imperial and Petroleum slipped ⅛.

TORONTO, (CP) — Widespread trimming of commitments in industrial issues on the Toronto stock exchange sent prices down fractions to as much as 5¼ points. Volume was about 1,350,000 shares.

In papers losses ranged up to three points. Liquors were down and utilities posted several point recessions. Foods and steels losses were in fractions, as were financials, constructions, oils and agricultures but point losses were numerous.

Base Metals Corp. was a feature in the mining lists, trading about 300,000 shares on a gain of about four cents.

Service

RCN, Chief Const. Reginald Jennings, heads of city veterans organizations and the ministers in charge of the service.

FOLLOWING the service the parading units marched past the Administrative Buildings on 109 street where the salute was taken by the lieutenant governor and commanding officers of the armed forces. Band of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment played the parade past the reviewing group.

The blue and white of the naval force, khaki battle dress of the army, blue of the air force, scarlet tunics of the RCMP and the bereted and bemedalled veterans topped by fluttering battle colors of many a famous unit, formed a vivid spectacle at the service and in the march past that followed.

We should be thankful for our inheritance of things spiritual that is the base that the British Empire was founded upon, Capt. Davies told the outdoor audience.

The minister was inclined to think that the British Commonwealth secured this rich inheritance of liberty and freedom because its early founders had encouraged the free reading of the bible.

THE BRITISH Commonwealth can be used as a "base" for reconstructing a peaceful world only if we remain true to our spiritual inheritance, he declared.

Delivering a special message to boys and girls, Rev. MacQueen recalled the terrible agency for evil that youth had been made into by Adolf Hitler.

The world needs youth at its best at this time, the minister declared, urging the boys and girls to "make your lives count."

"THE KEY TO the worthwhile life is to give; to give yourself to others and to Christ," he concluded.

O God Our Help In Ages Past and Onward Christian Soldiers were hymns sung, led by the Salvation Army band under the direction of Capt. Al. Burton.

R. C. Arthurs was parade marshal with George Gleave, Canadian Legion, and J. W. Duke, Canadian Corps Association, assistant parade marshals.

President A. M. Adamson of the Canadian Corps Association was in overall charge of arrangements for the service.

The following military and civilian organizations participated in the service, in addition to about 2,000 civilian spectators: Royal Canadian Navy, active and reserve; Canadian Army Units, active and reserve; RCAF, active, auxiliary and reserve; RCMP, City of Edmonton police, Canadian Corps Association, Red Chevron Club.

Army, Navy and Air Force Association, Imperial Veterans' Association, Canadian Legion branches No. 24, South Side, Kingsway, Legion of Frontiersmen, 19th Armored Car Rgt. Cadets, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment Cadets, Air Force Cadets, Sea Cadets, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, 20th HAA Regiment, RCA, 36th Field Ambulance unit, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and CGIT groups, St. John's Ambulance and Tuxis Boys.

Closing Ceremonies

Annual closing ceremonies and art exhibition of the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art, Calgary, will be held Wednesday afternoon, according to an announcement Monday.

Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education will be the main speaker at the ceremonies.

Polish Veterans "Satisfactory"

"Satisfactory" was the word used by department of agriculture officials to describe the results of a recent survey by district agriculturists of the treatment being accorded Polish Army veterans now employed by Alberta farmers.

Of 470 Polish soldiers now working on Alberta farms, only 20 have yet to be investigated.

No greater difficulties were being experienced by this group than would be normal for any similar body sent into a strange country.

Work On Telephone Building Delayed

Difficulty in obtaining steel has meant considerable delay in the construction of the Alberta government telephone building to be erected next to the Edmonton telephone exchange, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works said Monday.

However, he had been able to obtain a promise that the steel for the new telephone building, which will house technical equipment of the government phones will be available Aug. 1, Mr. Fallow said.

Appoint Stettler Superintendent

Dr. Robert E. Rees, who recently obtained his degree of doctor of philosophy at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, has been appointed school superintendent at Stettler, and will be taking over his new post Sept. 1, Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education said Monday.

Dr. Rees is temporarily stationed at Oyen. He was school superintendent at Edson before he joined the RCAF early in the war. He served with distinction and obtained the rank of flight lieutenant before his discharge.

25 Crews Working On Alberta Roads

Work is being done by 25 crews on Alberta's main roads according to the government travel bureau, but in only three of these cases are motorists required to make use of detours. In all other cases traffic is accommodated through the work.

Detours are indicated on the Calgary Banff highway at Cochrane and in Calgary; on the Calgary-Edmonton road north of Olds and on the Lethbridge-Coutts road.

Commence Judging In Recipe Contest

Fifteen home economists and dieticians started preliminary judging in Alberta's $1,000 recipe contest Monday, but final judging will not take place until the end of May, Dan. E. C. Campbell, director of tourist publicity indicated Monday.

The committee in charge of this phase of the judging is under the direction of Mrs. Vera Macdonald, supervising home economist for the department of agriculture.

It is hoped that the number of entries may be cut down by this committee to 100 submissions or less to come under the eyes of the final judges.
